THE VIRTUES AND EFFECT

OF THE REMEDY NAMED

MEDICAMENTUM GRATIA PROBATUM,

IN ENGLISH

The Remedy approved by Grace.

THIS Medicine works miracles with every one that makes use of it, and the grace of the Omnipotent God is experienced in it to admiration. When you take this remedy it unites itself to the stomach, and is the same as flying mercury, not letting the venoms rise with them. It likewise prevents all moist humours from running through the veins or nerves accompanying them until they pass through the pores, thus it communicates itself and loses its virtue, notwithstanding afterwards it may be expelled by the urine or stool.

If you take fifteen drops of this remedy after supper going to bed, it will expel gently all gravel and stone without the least inconvenience or disturbance: and what we admire most is that it dissolves the stone, the same time inwardly heals.

Thus we observed, and give you witnesses how it cured a poor man that for eleven years had suffered the torment of a wound or fistula caused by two incisions, that came to such a pitch of corruption that it bred worms so that the poor man casting from him pieces such bad smell he became troublesome as was already disposed for another infliction. In the space of these eleven years it is to be admired how much gravel and stone came out of the same wound, involved altogether by the way of an imposthume and whosoever doubts the truth he may examine the same invalid by name Adolph Cornelitz Jonkhout. another sick man Abraham Van Neer having been under the care of the most eminent physicians for upwards of three years, was at last carried to Amsterdam to undergo an operation, but he grew so weak that he could not bear one.

In any hour of the day you may take these drops when the stomach is best disposed to receive them.

This remedy is also very excellent in strengthening the stomach, and dissolving all thick and vicious humours of the same. It is good for all bruises in the hands and feet, pains of the reins, thickness of blood and black and blue spots, all kinds of fevers, and indisposition of the stomach, liver, lights, or lungs asthma, shortness of breath, cough or inward sores.

Hysterical pains, it advances the menses and facilitates the urine and stool, restoring to the face a fresh and wholesome colour.

It cures the scurvy, the dropsy, the French diseases, and kills the worms. All these distempers are cured by taking fifteen dropsevery second day, and you may give the children as many drops as they are years of age. Whosoever makes use of this remedy once a week will not be much troubled with the gravel fever, lax, or breaking out of the face and other disorders.

It cures the palpitation of the heart, all anxiety, megrims, giddiness and head aches by smelling it as you do Hungary water, or by putting in the ears of the sick person a little wool cotton soaked in the same medicamentum.

If you dip the point of your finger in this remedy and apply it to the corner of your eye opening and shutting the eye once or twice or thrice, take this experiment for a fortnight or month and it will make you so strong sighted that you need not use spectacles until the age of 70 or 80 years. Thus it preserves the sight.

You may anoint ulcers, malignant sores and all cancers &c be assured of its perfect cure.

If you happen to have a burn dip a bit of linen cloth in the remedy, and put it over the burned part, wetting now and then the cloth with the same remedy.

It likewise cures all flesh sores, megrims giddiness deafness, and all distempers in the gums or teeth by applying this to the effected.

All old and ancient disorders we cannot doubt but they require a long and continual remedy, so I have experienced by seeing severe disorders of twenty or thirty years standing which were supposed to be incurable and given up by physicians, but nevertheless were miraculously cured by virtue of these drops.

The greatest pain of cholic that can be immediately ceases with thirty drops of the same remedy.

It is good to mitigate the inward pains of children newly born, by giving them one or two drops of the same remedy in some breast milk.

All lying-in women that find themselves weak or any kind of weakness they will find the excellent effects of this remedy if they take it. Sore breasts are cured by the same, as is also the bloody flux, dog with admiration.

Whosoever is afflicted by stone in the bladder let him apply sooner to this remedy than to insufferable instruments of surgery, for as soon as you make use of this remedy all gluey and viscous matter that stick to the bladder is immediately dissolved which can be plainly seen in the urine appearing in divers figures in the form of spiders and other insects; it very often happens seen that the urine appears coagulated like curdled milk, but this happens when the [illegible] taken this remedy some time before, it is a cause of bloody urine. The same remedy expels entirely the stone, converting it into powder or dust, which can be plainly seen in the settling of the urine.

Notwithstanding I have not mentioned in this anything belonging to fits or any other distemper, nevertheless if any one is this way attacked let them make use of this remedy without the least danger; you may safely keep this remedy free from corruption fifty years so as you keep it well stopped.

This is the contents of our Medicamentum Gratia probatum or the remedy approved by Grace but I find no remedy for those who follow bad counsel or advice, or for those that do not like medicine much less for those who seem too delicate in taking it.

This remedy may be taken in brandy, wine milk, honey, &c. We have found by experience that a great many people have been entirely cured and freed from the fever and ague by taking three days following twenty-five drops of this remedy every morning and as it many more at night since we know eradicate and destroys the cause of all fevers.
